- ACPET: Australian Council for Private Education and Training

ACPET's mission is to:

Enhance quality, choice, innovation and diversity in Australian education and training for individual, national and global development. Work pro-actively and co-operatively with government, education and training providers, industry and community organisations, in order to ensure that vocational and higher education and training services provide choice and diversity, and well-targeted, appropriately delivered courses which are widely accessible and of high quality.

In the event that a student's dispute is not resolved internally, they may contact ACPET.

- Phoenix Mediation Services

Phoenix Mediation Services provide students will access to trained and qualified mediators who are able to work with them and the relevant registered training organisation to resolved complaints and disputes and assessment appeals that are not able to be resolved using internal processes.
